STATE & LOCAL NEWS

◆ REMEMBER OUR VETERANS!

Today is Veterans Day. The VFW Post on Congress Parkway in Athens will have its annual Veterans Day Ceremony at 11 a.m. today. The featured speaker will be Bill Akins, co-author of "Live In Infamy." Evonne Hoback will sing the National Anthem. The McMinn County High School Choir will also sing. There will be a KC-135 Stratotanker fly-over at 11:30 a.m.

◆ BUS AND CAR COLLIDE ON U.S. 411

Two people were injured Thursday afternoon in a school bus-car collision on Highway 411 near McMinn Central High School. Trooper Travis Ryans says the bus driver failed to see an oncoming car and pulled onto Highway 411 into its path. Neither the bus driver nor the one student on board was hurt. The driver of the car, Joyce Roderick of Etowah and her mother, Frances Daugherty, 91, were transported to Woods Memorial Hospital. Trooper Ryans says Mrs. Daugherty suffered 4 broken ribs possibly due to the air bag.

◆ COMMUNITY NEWS YOU CAN USE:

✓ The McMinn County Historical Center and the DAR and SAR will hold another Genealogy Seminar Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon in the Blue Room of the Courthouse. The seminar is free.

NATIONAL & WORLD NEWS

◆ Thousands of enraged Penn State students tore through the streets of State College to protest the firing of Joe Paterno. They knocked over a television satellite van, threw rocks at police, and set off fireworks. Two students were arrested and one girl was injured when she was hit in the head with a rock.

◆ Texas Gov. Rick Perry's campaign went into damage-control mode after Perry's memory lapse at Wednesday night's CNBC Republican presidential debate. When Perry tried to name the three federal departments he would eliminate if he were elected president, he could only come up with two names.

◆ The Consumer Product Safety Commission has issued a warning about high-powered magnets often marketed to adults as desk toys or stress reducers. The Commission says they are finding their way into the hands of children who might swallow them. Several children needed surgery to remove them.

◆ The Federal Communications Commission says Wednesday's first-ever nationwide test of the Emergency Alert System on radio and TV stations was a success because it identified problems and will help them improve the system. The test was filled with glitches. Listeners to some stations heard garbled audio and others heard a Lady Gaga song instead of a test announcement.

AUCTION TO HELP VETS

The Athens Indoor/Outdoor Flea Market at 403 S. Congress Parkway will hold an auction starting at noon Saturday. Proceeds will benefit needy veterans in the area. The owners, Bill & Mary Sampsel, says businesses and individuals have donated items for the auction. Among them is a 2001 Ford Windstar mini-van donated by Don Ledford Auto Park. The van has a Kelly Blue Book value of $3600. Sampsel says if you have items you would be willing to donate, simply drop them off at the Flea Market today or Saturday morning. If you need him to pick up the items, just call 423-326-8769.
