◆ FIRE HITS JOE'S ITALIAN RESTAURANT

For the second time in recent months, a fire has caused heavy damage to an Athens restaurant. Fire broke out at Joe's Italian Cuisine at 601 W. Madison Ave. (below right) early Friday morning. Athens Fire Chief Jim Dyer says the fire started in the office and was electrical in nature. He says the fire was extinguished when the solder in the joints of a copper water line above the ceiling in the office melted, causing water to pour out of the pipe and douse the flames. The fire itself was confined to the office, but other parts of the restaurant suffered smoke and water damage. Joe Milanzi, the owner, asks for everyone's prayers and says he plans to re-open in the near future. The fire at Joe's comes 2½ months after a fire caused heavy damage to the Western Sizzlin' Steak House on March 21st.

◆ MAN FACES CHARGES IN WIFE'S DEATH

Adrian Hall, 41, of Athens has been charged with reckless aggravated assault in the death of his wife, which he claims was an accident. Police were flagged down by Hall on Congress Parkway near Velma Road last Friday afternoon. Hall's wife, 51-year-old Janie Arlene Hall, was lying on the side of the road, unconscious, with a bad cut on her leg. Hall said he accidentally struck his wife with a tent pole he was trying to throw at a skunk that was in the tent where the couple lived. EMT personnel administered first aid, but Mrs. Hall stopped breathing. She was pronounced dead at Starr Regional Medical Center. Family members say she had a history of medical problems that may have caused her death. An autopsy has been ordered to determine the exact cause of death.
