Vols Gear Up for UAB as Neyland Stadium Prepares for Smoother Entry

No. 15/15 Tennessee will look to rebound from a narrow loss to Georgia as the Vols close out a three-game homestand against UAB on Saturday at 12:45 p.m. on SEC Network. Tennessee's defense will face a challenge against UAB's balanced offense, requiring strong communication and teamwork across all levels to stop both the run and the pass. Offensively, the Vols hope to build on a 41-point performance against Georgia, led by redshirt junior Chris Brazzell II, who recorded career highs with 177 receiving yards and three touchdowns, showcasing his development as a key play-maker.

Following congestion at Neyland Stadium during the Georgia game, University of Tennessee Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics Danny White has implemented new entry procedures to improve the fan experience. Gates now open at 10:15 a.m., two and a half hours before kickoff, with Gate 20 reopening to the public and students entering through Gate 4 at the southeast corner of the stadium. Fans are encouraged to follow designated walking routes, including Lake Loudoun Blvd. and Phillip Fulmer Way.

The Pride of the Southland Band will begin its march at 11:05 a.m. on Pat Head Summitt Street, proceeding to the Johnson-Ward Pedestrian Walkway and entering at Gate 25. The traditional salute to the hill will take place at the corner of Volunteer Blvd. and the pedestrian walkway entrance. Security measures remain in place, including metal detectors on the southeast corner of the stadium, with fans able to move freely through the area until four hours before kickoff. Tailgaters can access G10 coolers until that time, after which they should move to G3, G4, G5, or G30 to find their spot.

Fans can find additional updates and gameday information at utsports.com as Tennessee prepares for another high-energy Saturday at Neyland Stadium.

Crash Shuts Down I-40 Eastbound Near West Hills

Knoxville drivers faced major delays Monday night after a crash shut down all eastbound lanes of Interstate 40 near West Hills.

The wreck was reported around 7:15 p.m., according to the Tennessee

Department of Transportation. By 8:30 p.m., traffic was heavily backed up near the North Cedar Bluff Road exit as crews worked to clear the roadway.

TDOT SmartWay cameras showed a tractor-trailer jackknifed against the concrete divider in the center of the interstate. Emergency responders blocked traffic in all eastbound lanes while they attended to the crash.

Lanes remained closed for several hours as responders worked to move the tractor-trailer and restore traffic flow.
